Your Rights:

You have the right to access your data and rectify it. In addition, you have the right to request their deletion (concerns data processed on the basis of consent or data that are no longer necessary for the purpose for which they were collected or otherwise processed), processing restrictions and data transfer (applies only to data that is processed in an automated way). You also have the right to lodge a complaint with the supervisory body if your data is processed contrary to the law. If the processing of personal data takes place on the basis of the person's consent to the processing of personal data (Article 6 (1) letter and RODO), you have the right to withdraw your consent at any time. The withdrawal does not affect the compliance of the processing, which was made on the basis of the consent prior to its withdrawal, with the applicable law. In the situation where the processing of personal data takes place on the basis of the consent of the data subject, providing your personal data by the Administrator is voluntary. Providing your personal data by you is mandatory if the condition for the processing of personal data is a legal provision or an agreement between the parties.

The purpose of processing:

Your personal data will be processed in order to take action before the conclusion of the contract, including to conduct a tender, perform the contract already concluded, and fulfill the legal obligations of the Administrator, including reports, tax settlements, archiving, etc. Personal data may also be processed for purposes resulting from the legitimate interests of the Administrator, for example during the period of limitation of claims related to the performance of the contract. In other cases, your personal data is processed only on the basis of prior consent. The legal basis for the processing of your personal data for the purposes referred to above is art. 6 par. 1 lit. a, b, c or f RODO.

Recipients of personal data can be:

- public authorities and entities performing public tasks or acting on behalf of public authorities,
- subcontractors performing tasks commissioned on behalf of the Administrator,
- other entities that, under applicable agreements, process personal data entrusted by the Administrator.

Your personal data will not be transferred to countries outside the European Economic Area, as well as the Administrator will not use automated decision making, including profiling.

Your personal data will be processed for the period necessary to achieve the objectives set out above, and after that for the period and to the extent required by the provisions of generally applicable law or for the period of limitation of claims under the contract.
